Twitter: My response on Twitter: The insidious deflection by the DA is damning. They didn't care that a mentally distressed Black man harmed his black family. The system green lighted it. Systemic malpractice across industries and governing authorities to the demise of Black families has been in play from day one. ---After punching his mother and his own child, the Waukesha mass murderer, proceeded to run his mother over with his car and the DA released him on 1K bail allowing him to murder parade goers. The DA is now blaming his assistant for the low bail release

Nov. 11 --

Yesterday tapped in and connected with influencers from a Caribbean Biz Tech Virtual Conf. via Hopin conferencing platform. Updated my Linked in with 100devs. Changed my Thinks Epic Marketing Group title to Technical Marketing Engineer, Gained Linked in connection with marketing hostess, we chatted and she joined my LI and Twitter @ EpicDevs. Added Caribbean influencers in tech to my hit list.

Today Tapped in to an African Tech org based in Atl Twitter space. The topic was Fin tech, crypto, and future trends coming down the pipe via Web3, got about 5 new twitter followers from that and adding this cohort to my hit list outreach efforts as well. Listening to different communities from around the world is what's up and leveling up my insights and trends analysis capacities.

Moh Moh called me today, he has an exec. advisor from Go Daddy coaching him and wants to help him get an app for his new org. Will add link to website. Will check it out to see if I can make a web development contribution to his efforts for my portfolio and to support his efforts.

Made more headway on this survey for Carlos. Chatted with Gisselle last night and sent her a survey teaser. It's eye catching and so far I like working on the sparrow survey platform. I will invest in a subscription after trial period. Should complete it tomorrow.

I also joined Cecily's Sewing Group on Facebook. Her execution and her development are impressive and very engaging. Inspiring my app idea "SewWhat" a virtual custom design platform for seamstresses, emerging designers, and fashionistas who want to get their clothes custom made by direct contact with designers.

NOTE: Learn about NFT's and the process of creating them. Web3 discussions included a coming trend of society building out virtual spaces and purchasing virtual items like in real life. (Sad but so) and yes there is a level of materialism that exists right now that this trend is already in beginning stages. I want to discuss this possibility in a blog post about WEB3. It's an interesting topic that centers around content and community ownership and earning value from companies you freely promote online to your followers etc.

Also today did some meta studying on Big O terms related to algos and functions. Gearing up to populate ankie with all my organized notes. Consciously not beating myself up at my pace. Steady as she goes is rowing my boat merrily down the stream. I'm hitting my core initiatives daily. This week has been unexpected powerful outreach, hitlist building, working my twitter channel, learning productivity platforms. And of course got to keep that coding meta studying in to keep it fresh in my understanding et al.

Paid Carefirst bill out of checking, spoke briefly with my Medicare contact we scheduled phone meeting for next Tues. to prepare me for the Medicare transition. (Lord Have Mercy)

Nov. 7 -- "Keep Going"

My Epic Dev Tweet responding to someone's response to "How much money would make you happy."

This guy said $1billion a month. I said, That sounds about right. Then I can save at least 500 disenfranchised municipalities around the world a day with infrastructure, housing, healthcare, future ready job opps and edu deals. And effectively advocate for enforcement of laws and policies to protect & serve the people.
